WHY LEARN GERMAN

One language, a world of opportunities

This programme takes a complete beginner to CEFR B2 in 10 months and about 460 classroom hours — mapped to the Goethe-Institut and telc exam formats, so every level ends with an internationally recognised certificate.

Jobs in Germany
Germany actively recruits skilled workers from India in IT, healthcare, engineering and hospitality — German opens those doors.

Study & Ausbildung
Paid vocational training (Ausbildung) and German-taught degree programmes need recognised German levels.

German MNCs in India
Multinationals serving German-speaking markets hire for support, sales, finance and IT roles — B2 is the usual threshold.

Visas & residence
A1 to B2 each unlock points, visas and faster residence routes — from the Opportunity Card to permanent residence.

Europe's top language
German is the most widely spoken native language in the EU, used across Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Lifelong certificates
Goethe-Zertifikate are internationally recognised and do not expire — proof you can show employers anywhere.

Course at a glance

DURATION	LEVELS	CLASSROOM	VOCABULARY
10 months	A1 – B2	460 h	4,000
40 weeks of units	4 CEFR levels	+ guided self-study	words by B2

Communicative, theme-based teaching — speak real German for real situations from day one.

WHO CAN ENROLL

Start from zero — no German needed

The course begins with pronunciation and the alphabet, so complete beginners can follow comfortably and move up level by level.

Students
Planning higher studies or Ausbildung (vocational training) in Germany.

Nurses & Healthcare
Aiming for nursing recognition and jobs in Germany (B2 required).

IT & Working Professionals
Targeting jobs in Germany or German-language roles in Indian MNCs.

Visa & Family Applicants
Spouse visa, Opportunity Card or residence routes needing A1–B1.

Your weekly rhythm

Day 1–3
New grammar & vocabulary through a real-life theme

Day 4
Skills practice — Lesen, Hören, Schreiben, Sprechen

Day 5
Revision, short weekly test & speaking circle

How you will learn

- Communicative, theme-based method — every unit starts from a situation you will meet in Germany: job, housing, doctor, authorities
- Grammar taught inductively from real texts, then drilled until it becomes automatic
- Vocabulary journal — 20–30 new words per class day at A-levels
- Self-study plan — about 1 hour of homework per class day: vocabulary, listening (podcasts, Deutsche Welle) and one short writing task per week

ASSESSMENT & CERTIFICATES

Clear progress, recognised certificates

Learners move to the next level after passing the internal final test with at least 60% in each of the four skills.

COMPONENT	WEIGHT	WHEN
Weekly quizzes (vocabulary + grammar)	15%	Every Friday
Unit tests	25%	Week 4 (A-levels); weeks 4 and 8 (B-levels)
Writing portfolio (emails, letters, essays)	15%	One task per week
Speaking (class participation, presentations)	15%	Ongoing
Final mock exam in Goethe format	30%	Last week of each level

Certificates you can earn

LEVEL	GOETHE EXAM	FORMAT	PASS MARK	OTHER ACCEPTED
A1	Goethe-Zertifikat A1: Start Deutsch 1	One exam, all four skills	60%	telc Deutsch A1, ÖSD A1
A2	Goethe-Zertifikat A2	One exam; written + oral parts	60% overall	telc Deutsch A2, ÖSD A2
B1	Goethe-Zertifikat B1	Modular: Lesen, Hören, Schreiben, Sprechen	60% per module	telc Deutsch B1, ÖSD B1
B2	Goethe-Zertifikat B2	Modular: Lesen, Hören, Schreiben, Sprechen	60% per module	telc Deutsch B2, ÖSD B2, TestDaF (B2–C1)

A1 and A2 are taken as one exam covering all four skills; B1 and B2 are modular, so a failed module can be retaken alone. In India, exams are run by the Goethe-Institut / Max Mueller Bhavan in Mumbai, Bengaluru, Kolkata, Pune, Chennai and New Delhi. Goethe certificates do not expire, but many employers expect one dated within the last two years. Exams are taken separately; check current dates and fees with the nearest centre.

CAREER OUTCOMES

Every level unlocks something new

B1 opens training, permanent residence and citizenship in Germany; B2 opens professional recognition (for example nursing) and most German-language office jobs in India.

LEVEL	WHAT IT UNLOCKS IN GERMANY	JOBS & ROLES IT SUPPORTS
A1	Spouse visa (where required); minimum German for the Opportunity Card points route; EU Blue Card holders can get permanent residence after 27 months with A1	Travel and hospitality front desk; entry-level roles where German is a plus
A2	1 Opportunity Card point; recognition-partnership visa for nurses with a German job contract	Basic customer-facing roles with German clients; data-entry or back-office work with German documents
B1	2 Opportunity Card points; normal requirement for the Ausbildung visa; faster permanent residence for skilled workers and Blue Card holders; citizenship after 5 years of legal residence	Ausbildung in nursing, hospitality, IT and mechatronics; German-language customer and technical support (BPO/KPO); tourism and travel desks
B2	3 Opportunity Card points (maximum for language); required for recognition as a nurse (Pflegefachkraft); entry to many German-taught preparatory and degree programmes	Nurse in Germany; German-speaking roles in IT, SAP, finance and accounting; content moderation and localisation; junior translator; German trainer for A1–A2 batches

Typical career paths after this course

Work in Germany

Opportunity Card job search (up to 1 year, part-time work up to 20 h/week allowed), then a skilled-worker or Blue Card permit.

Ausbildung route

B1/B2 plus a training contract — paid vocational training of usually 2–3 years leading to a German qualification.

Healthcare

B2 for nursing recognition; programmes such as GIZ's Triple Win recruit nurses and train them in German at home.

Jobs in India

MNCs serving German-speaking markets hire for support, sales, finance and IT roles; B2 is usually the hiring threshold.

Teaching & translation

B2 to teach beginner batches; C1–C2 for professional translation and interpreting.

Higher studies

German-taught degree programmes and preparatory courses, often with TestDaF or DSH at C1.

Immigration rules change; learners should confirm details with the German embassy or the official Make it in Germany portal before applying.
